

SISTERS MARY AT SAME HOUR

Double Wedding in Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woolf at Tempe When Two Daughters Are Married Yesterday

(Special to The Republican.)
TEMPE, Ariz., Sept. 10.—There was a double wedding in Tempe today at the Woolf home when the two charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woolf were married by Rev. R. A. Waudes of the Baptist church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The high contracting parties were William H. Caruthers, who successfully wooed Miss Irene K. Woolf, and Charles M. Hallstead, who won Miss Mabel H. Woolf. Caruthers has been employed in the state engineer's department for about a year or more at the Tempe bridge, while Hallstead formerly lived in this section, but of late has made his home at The Needles, where he is employed by the Santa Fe railway in the capacity of agent.

The young ladies were born in Tempe and are well and favorably known here. Both are graduates of the Tempe Normal school and both have been teaching in the schools of the county at Alma and Osborn respectively. The wedding came as a great surprise to the friends of the family. The preparations were all made in secret, so much so that it was fully expected that the girls would both resume their positions teaching until the schools opened Monday, when it was found they would not be on hand this year.

Only the immediate relatives of the high contracting parties were present at the wedding, but this did not detract from the interest in the ceremony. The brother of the two brides, Under Sheriff Woolf of Phoenix, came down for the wedding, and the relatives of the family living in Phoenix were all present.

The wedding was fully in accord with the disposition of the two charming brides. Since babyhood they have been inseparable companions. They have seemed to their many friends more like twins than older and younger sisters. They were always together and it is considered fitting here that they were married on the same day and at the same hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Caruthers will make their home in Flagstaff after October 1, for the groom has been transferred there in connection with the operations of the state engineering department. Mr. and Mrs. Hallstead will make their home in The Needles after October 1. The double honeymoon will be spent at the Grand Canyon immediately after the ceremony.

SWITCH TAMPERER IS MADE A TARGET

Officer McCann Took Shot at Man Who Tried to Derail Cars.

Some man whose identity has not been discovered heard the "ping" of a bullet a little after nine o'clock on Tuesday night but he has not reported to say what he thought of the music. For several nights somebody has been tampering with the street railway switch at the junction of Pierce street and First. The cars have had trouble there frequently and on Monday night a car was derailed and the passengers were badly shaken. It was found that stones had been wedged into the switch, projecting above the top of the rails high enough to lift a car off. It was supposed to be the work of mischievous boys though persons living in the vicinity said that they had seen the shadowy forms of large boys or grown men in the vicinity of the switch.

On Tuesday night Officer Marion McCann went out to await further developments at the switch. He concealed himself near by and some time after nine o'clock he saw a man approach the switch and stoop over it, apparently putting something into it. The officer waited a short time and then called to the man who sprang to his feet and ran up Pierce street. The officer called to him to stop but he turned into the alley in the rear of the residence of E. E. Van Kirk. The officer then fired, not to scare the man who was already sufficiently scared, but to stop him and he was not particular as to how hard he stopped him. He missed, but he could not shoot again without danger of shooting into the corner of the kitchen of the Van Kirk residence.

Yesterday morning the officer went back and found where the bullet had lodged in a barn on the other side of the alley. From the position where he stood, when he fired the shot, the tracks of the fugitive and the location of the bullet flattered himself that it was not a bad shot to make in the moonlight.

The man was tall, roughly dressed and wore a pair of overalls.

FORTUNATE

Secretary Bryan was listening with an inimitable smile to the praises of a financial magnate that a senator was singing at a dinner.

"He's the architect of his own fortune, too," said the senator, "entirely the architect of his own fortune."

"Well," said Secretary Bryan, "it's a lucky thing for him that the building inspector didn't come round while the operation was going on."—New York Globe.

Navajo Southern Railway Granted Permission to Sell Million and Quarter in Bonds for Road to Timber Districts

The Arizona corporation commission yesterday granted permission to the Navajo Southern railway to sell $1,250,000 worth of its 6 per cent twenty year bonds for the purpose of acquiring further right-of-way, construction of the line, to defray the cost of equipping the same, and the payment of operating expenses of the road during construction thereof, in consideration that the company do this and begin the construction of the road south of Holbrook seventy miles to the rim of the Grand Canyon.

The par value of each of these bonds is to be of $1,000. It is stated in the order in addition to this that the company has no indebtedness and that the whole proceeds derived from the sale, less the payment of commissions for sale, can be applied to the purposes for which they are asked. None of the bonds must be sold for less than 85 per cent of their par value.

The company must make reports to the corporation commission at such times as directed by the commission, showing the expenditures of the proceeds derived from the sale of the bonds, and must keep its books in such uniform style as has been heretofore determined by the commission. A certified report from the president and secretary of the company must be made to the commission thirty days after the sale of the bonds, showing the disposal of them and the names of the purchasers.

The additional line of railroad within the state of Arizona will serve a rich and thriving agricultural and stock district, as well as tapping the immense timber forests in southern Navajo county. The company is already the owner of a franchise granted by the board of supervisors of Navajo county, and is also the owner of a private right-of-way over lands controlled by the United States government, duly approved by the commissioner of the general land office at Washington.

"Miss Wombat, will you be mine?"

"Never."

"The young man was jaded but not wholly discouraged. Presently he came back in this fashion."

"Well, will you let me be yours?"

FREE TEXT BOOKS MAKE SCHOOL MEN BUSY NOW

Circulars Explaining Workings of New Law Sent out to all Counties in the State.

The office force of Superintendent C. O. Case of the department of public instruction are being worked pretty hard at this time of the year owing to the fact that information concerning the workings of the new school text book law must be sent to all parts of the state so that there will be a minimum of mistakes made in its operation this first year.

There are eighteen thousand of these circulars being sent out, and every school in the fourteen counties is being supplied with enough of them so that all parents may be as well apprised of how to go about things as the teacher. In Maricopa county Superintendent Riggins is explaining the use of a poster that he has devised. The poster is put inside the cover page of the text book and it has on its face the name of the book, the cost, the name of the pupil issued to, and the date both of issue and return.

On the bottom of the poster the following statement appears which tells about all of the important rules for the care and protection of the new book.

"The law holds pupils and parent responsible for the use of this book. Some of the rules governing its use are: It must be returned in good condition upon demand from proper authority and when the pupil leaves the school district; it must not be removed from the school room without permission, nor loaned, torn, marked or in any other way unduly damaged. Assessments for loss, damage, or any other just cause, must be paid promptly."

In addition to the work of sending out the notices by Superintendent Case, there are many other matters to be attended to at this season of the year that require the personal supervision of the superintendent himself, so that the officer as a whole is about as busy as one officer can well get.

Mr. Case has the consolation, however, that he has a company. Superintendent Riggins of the county schools is also very busy, while no one has much more work to do than Prof. John D. Loper, the energetic superintendent of the city schools.

SCHOOL SYSTEM OF NEW STATE COMPLIMENTED

Superintendent of Los Angeles Public Schools Always Glad to Receive Pupils from the Schools of Arizona

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—That Arizona's up-to-date and progressive school system is recognized throughout the country is being demonstrated constantly.

John H. Francis, superintendent of the Los Angeles public schools and one of the most prominent educators on the coast, paid the Arizona schools a tribute this morning when he declared that he was always delighted to find students from that state enter the schools over which he has supervision.

"We are glad to get boys and girls from Arizona. We do not hesitate to place them according to the rank of their former school and they keep up with their grades in a most satisfactory manner. Good, level-headed people are in charge of the Arizona institutions and have developed a system that is a credit to the state. The schools, those of Phoenix in particular, have an excellent standing with us. Mr. Loper, superintendent, has splendid progressive methods that have attracted our attention as we have noticed how well prepared the pupils are who come to us from his schools."

The public schools open here next Monday. Mr. Francis, who has taken an active part in every national gathering of educators in recent and is an authority on educational problems, has introduced many of the special features that now exist in the Los Angeles schools. Under his regime the advancement in the public schools of southern California has been phenomenal. This season he will develop the special schools which he was instrumental in establishing. The school funds have been curtailed by the new interpretation of the special tax rate which will not exceed 20 cents over the 46 cents of last year. As far as possible he will pay special stress on the work in the vocational schools, the night schools, the school garden, the school playground, the neighborhood schools, in connection with which the day nurseries are conducted, intermediate schools, the tenth and fourteenth year work in the high schools, the school library and departmental work in special branches, including music and drawing.

Thoroughly in harmony with Mr. Francis is J. B. Monlux, deputy superintendent of Los Angeles schools. He, too, has had his eye on Arizona and especially commends the action of the state on the free text book question.

"Arizona has done the right thing," he said, "in permitting the free text books to be used but one year. I heartily approve of its action in not allowing filthy, torn and soiled books passed from child to child. If I were on the state board of health I would demand new books. Books once used should be destroyed, for I doubt if it is possible to disinfect them. Besides being unpleasant for the children to handle in the foul and filthy volumes, there is always the danger of disease."

Beyond the present use no provision has been made for the free text book here. Mr. Monlux is grasping every opportunity to forward the plan adopted by Arizona and has interested many in the matter.

R. E. MCGILLEN RETURNS—R. E. McGillen, assistant secretary of state, returned yesterday morning from an extended trip to the east, during which time he visited with his mother in Chicago. Mr. McGillen enjoyed his trip exceedingly, but is glad to be back in Arizona. He said that some of the time he was comfortable in Chicago and some of the time it was so hot he wished he were back in the Salt River valley, or better still, around the mountains of Prescott.

ONLY A BEGINNING IN PRISON WORK

Views of Parole Clerk of the State Prison.

The following is an extract from a personal letter written Hon. A. J. Herndon, Prescott, Arizona, by Hon. J. J. Sanders, parole clerk of Arizona state prison, Florence, Arizona.

"Prison work is yet a virgin field for the man who studies things. To right things we must enter the world of cause. Each prisoner is an individual study. Nervous and physical defects have much to do with the individuals who violate law. This is rarely taken into consideration by the courts. Doctors are better fitted to sit as judges in criminal cases than as lawyers. The prison physician, Dr. W. G. Randall, has performed some wonderful surgical operations on some of the inmates of this prison.

"I am fully satisfied if the physical defects from which these men were suffering were taken into consideration by the superior court trying them, they would not be convicted of crime, but would be remanded to a hospital for treatment. We congratulate ourselves that we are not born in the Dark Ages, but when one studies the men who are sent here branded as convicts, studies their ailments and defects, knowing these were not taken into consideration by the courts, we can look ahead a thousand years and see the people of that future day congratulating themselves that they did not live in this dark and dismal age."

FOURTH TRIAL OF DR. HYDE ON SWOPE MURDER CHARGE IN KANSAS CITY SOON

Dr. and Mrs. B. Clarke Hyde.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10.—(Special)—The fourth trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde of this city, on a charge of having murdered Col. Thomas Swope nearly four years ago, is to open next week. The case is one of the most interesting ever tried in the courts of Missouri.

Colonel Swope, an uncle of Hyde's wife, died in convulsions on October 3, 1909, after taking a capsule prescribed by Dr. Hyde. Later other members of the Swope household were taken suddenly ill with typhoid and the charge was made that they had been inoculated by the deadly typhoid bacilli. In February, 1910, Hyde was arrested on a charge of murder.

At the first trial Hyde was convicted in the lower court, but the conviction was overturned and Hyde given another trial. After the second trial had dragged on for many weeks, one of the jurors, evidently crazed by his long confinement, made his escape from the jury room, and thus the second attempt to convict Hyde came to a fruitless end. Hyde was tried again last last January, but the jury, legal talent in Missouri was employed on the case. The jury disagreed.

The state will try to prove that Hyde murdered Swope and that his motive for so doing arose from a belief that Swope was about to change a will in which Mrs. Swope was given a large share of the Swope wealth.

Dr. Hyde is now out on bail and enjoys a large medical practice in this city. His wife received $118,000 of the Swope money when the estate was closed up last year.
